FOLLOWING

INSIDE

01 How a day goes
02 Where your work sits
03 The screen you will live in
04 Where things live
05 What you actually do
06 A real one, start to finish
07 Right and wrong
08 Words we use
09 Rules that cost money

ROLE MANUAL

Business Developme

Every deal, first call to won

You bring the work in. You qualify it, agree what we charge, get it signed, and hand it over in writing so nothing is lost between you and delivery.

Following FZC

Internal, not for clients

7 November 2026

How a day goes

Three moments. Everything else finds you.

First thing

- Open Sales. Your whole board, by stage.
- Open Partner leads. Enquiries off the website land here.
- Open Brands. Every brand you are talking to.

Through the day

- Move deals as they move. The board is the record now, not the sheet.
- The moment a deal looks real, ask the brand for its brief and forward it to the Founder & CEO, who sets it up and presses Ask talent. Do not wait for the yes.
- Every deal carries a next step and a date, or it is not being worked.

Before you log off

- Every enquiry today is a brand on the board with a next step.

Where your work sits

You start everything. The earlier a founder presses Ask talent, the less of the client's patience is spent waiting for names. Tell them early.

BUSINESS DEV Find the brand	BUSINESS DEV Agree the deal	TALENT Find creators	FOUNDERS Agree what we pay
TALENT Book and paper them	ACCOUNT MGMT Content and approvals	ACCOUNT MGMT Results to the client	FOUNDERS Invoice and pay

Your part

The screen you will live in

Drawn, not photographed, so it stays true when a button moves.
The numbers are explained underneath.

1 Columns are stages. Move a deal by changing its stage on the card.

2 A brand can hold several deals. Barakat has run eighteen campaigns under one name.

3 "Worth" only counts deals carrying a figure, and says how many do not.

4 Ask talent. A founder presses it when the deal looks real, NOT when it closes.

5 "Talent sourcing" means they are already finding names for this one.

6 A deal with no next step and no date is not being worked.

Where things live

The menu down the left of the screen. This is all of it.

Today	What your day is made of
Decisions	Everything waiting on a decision from you
Requests	What clients and colleagues have asked for
Guide	What every screen is for
WORK
Pipeline	Every creator we owe something, and what happens next
Clients	The brands we run
Creators	The master database, with cost and sell pricing
Campaigns	Live work and where each creator has got to
Affiliate links	Every campaign's short links, clicks and sales in one place

What you actually do

In order. The strip on each card is what to click, as you click it.

1 Take the enquiry

The moment it arrives.

GO TO Clients › Partner leads

1. Everybody who filled in the form on the website is here, newest first.
2. Open the one you are taking and write down what they asked for.
3. Put your name on it so nobody answers it twice.

2 Qualify it

Before anything is quoted.

GO TO Clients › Sales › Add a brand

1. Budget, market, category, timing, who signs.
2. Without a budget there is no brief, and no brief wastes everyone.
3. Add the brand on the board and write what you learned on the deal.

✓ Next: The Founder & CEO decides whether we chase it and sets up the brand's brief.

3 Get talent started early

The moment the deal looks real. NOT when it closes.

GO TO Clients › Sales

1. This is the one that used to cost us weeks. Talent heard when a campaign locked.
2. Ask the brand for its brief. The brand writes it; on a first campaign it comes to you.
3. Forward it to the Founder & CEO, and chase the brand for anything missing.
4. The Founder & CEO sets it up and presses Ask talent.
5. Say WHAT, never how many. A client signing fifteen may need to see hundreds.
6. Talent get it on Today, with the brand's roster open and the brief on it.

✓ Next: Sourcing runs while you are still negotiating, so names exist when they ask.

4 Leave the quotation to the Founder & CEO

When the client is ready to see prices.

GO TO Clients › Quotes

1. You do not build the numbers and you do not send the quote or proposal.
2. Only the Founder & CEO sends it, never from your own inbox.
3. Keep the conversation warm around it. You can see on the brand that it went.

✓ Next: The client opens it and picks. You see what they chose without asking.

5 Sign and hand over

When they say yes.

GO TO Clients › Brands › Open the brand

1. Get the agreement signed and uploaded against the brand.
2. Hand over in writing: what was sold, at what price, by when.
3. Introduce the account manager to the client yourself.

✓ Next: Account management owns the client from here. You go and find the next one.

06 · A REAL ONE

From a first meeting to names on the table

One job, followed the whole way, with the real numbers.

Start to finish

WEEK 1	Meeting with Minimalist. Skincare, UAE, wants to launch in six weeks. Add the brand, add the deal, stage Met them.
WEEK 1	You get a budget out of them: AED 57,000. Put it on the deal. A deal with no budget is not a deal yet and the board shows that honestly.
WEEK 2	It feels real. Do not wait. Ask Minimalist for their brief: skincare and derm, UAE, 50k to 300k, studio capable. Forward it to the Founder & CEO.
WEEK 2	It has no budget per creator, so you chase Minimalist for one. The Founder & CEO sets it up, presses Ask talent, budget AED 3,500 to 4,000.
WEEK 2	Say WHAT, never how many. They may need to show sixty before the client picks fifteen, and a number from you reads as a target.
WEEK 2	Talent starts the same day. Two weeks ago she would have started after signature, and the client would have waited.
WEEK 3	The Founder & CEO sends the quotation to the client. You never send one, from the platform or from your own inbox.
WEEK 3	You keep the conversation warm around it, and see on the brand that it went.
WEEK 4	They pick. The deal moves to Won and account management takes the client.

What good looks like

Everything on the right has actually happened here and cost us something.

✓ What good looks like

- Tell a founder the moment a deal looks real, so talent start weeks before it closes.
- Every deal has a next step and a date, or it is not being worked.
- The budget goes on the deal as soon as you hear it, even if it is a range.
- A lost deal keeps its reason. "They went with two brands only" is worth more than the deal was.
- The brand's brief goes to the Founder & CEO the day it arrives. Proposals and quotes are theirs.

× What has actually gone wrong

- Waiting for signature before telling talent. This is the one that has cost us weeks on every campaign so far.
- Telling talent how many creators to find. It reads as a target and they stop short.
- Quoting a price that is not on the rate card without a founder saying so.
- A board full of deals with no next step. It looks busy and tells you nothing.
- Handing a client over in a conversation. If it is not written down, it did not happen.
- Sending a client a quote or a proposal yourself. Only the Founder & CEO sends one.

Words we use

They mean something specific. A roster is not a list, and cost is not sell.

Brand
A company we are talking to. Becomes a client when a deal is won.

Client
A brand that has bought something. They have an account and can log in.

Deal
One conversation about money. A brand can have many, over years.

Campaign
A deal that was won and opened. Real creators, real money.

Roster
The creators sourced for one brand, for its whole life. It replaced the sheet.

Skip
Not for this campaign. Still in the database; the reason follows them.

Open call
A campaign card creators answer on WhatsApp. The agent collects their price.

Following Track
Short links per creator. Clicks, carts and sales, shown to the brand once released.

List
A standing question: "fashion, UAE". Answers itself. Never client-specific.

Cost
What we pay a creator. Founders and talent only. Never shown to a brand.

Sell
What we charge a client. A creator with no sell price cannot be sold.

Quoted cost
What we assumed when pricing. Rarely what we end up paying.

Agreed rate
What a creator actually accepted. The only number that is real.

Request
Something somebody is waiting on, with an owner and a date.

Proposal
A priced roster the Founder & CEO sends a client to choose from.

Share link
A /p/ link a client opens without logging in. Only the Founder & CEO sends one.

Enrolment link
A founder creates it, talent sends it, the creator signs and gives their own bank.

The ladder
The rungs a booked creator climbs: briefed, content in, posted, paid.

Held
Stopped until a founder answers. Nothing has happened yet.

Rules that cost money

Each one has already cost us something.

- Never send a client a quote or a proposal. Only the Founder & CEO does.
- Never quote a price that is not on the rate card without a founder saying so.
- You never see cost. Only what we sell for.
- A handover said out loud is not a handover. Write it down.
- An enquiry nobody has answered by tomorrow is a lost enquiry.

Every screen in the platform is explained under Guide in the menu. If something here does not match what you see, the product is right and this is out of date. Say so and it gets reprinted.

Business Development

QUICK CARD

OPEN FIRST

- Sales. Your whole board.
- Partner leads. Every new enquiry.

THE ONE RULE

- Get talent started when it looks real, not when it closes.

SAY WHAT, NOT HOW MANY

- A client signing fifteen may need to see hundreds.

NEVER

- Never send a client a quote or proposal. The Founder & CEO does.
- You see sell. You never see cost.

EVERY DEAL

- A next step and a date. Otherwise it is not being worked.

Following

Pin this up. The rest of the manual explains it.